Primavera

by Barber & Osgerby

Primavera rappresenta il contrasto tra l'elemento naturale e il mondo artificiale, tradotto in ceramica. I designer hanno ricreato una lastra che ricorda un materiale naturale e le sue irregolarità, percepibili alla vista e al tatto, gettando piccoli inserti ceramici colorati in maniera del tutto randomica su 5 diverse basi di impasto. Così facendo, piacevoli imperfezioni estetiche sono emerse sulla superficie delle piastrelle, dando vita a una texture unica e sempre diversa.

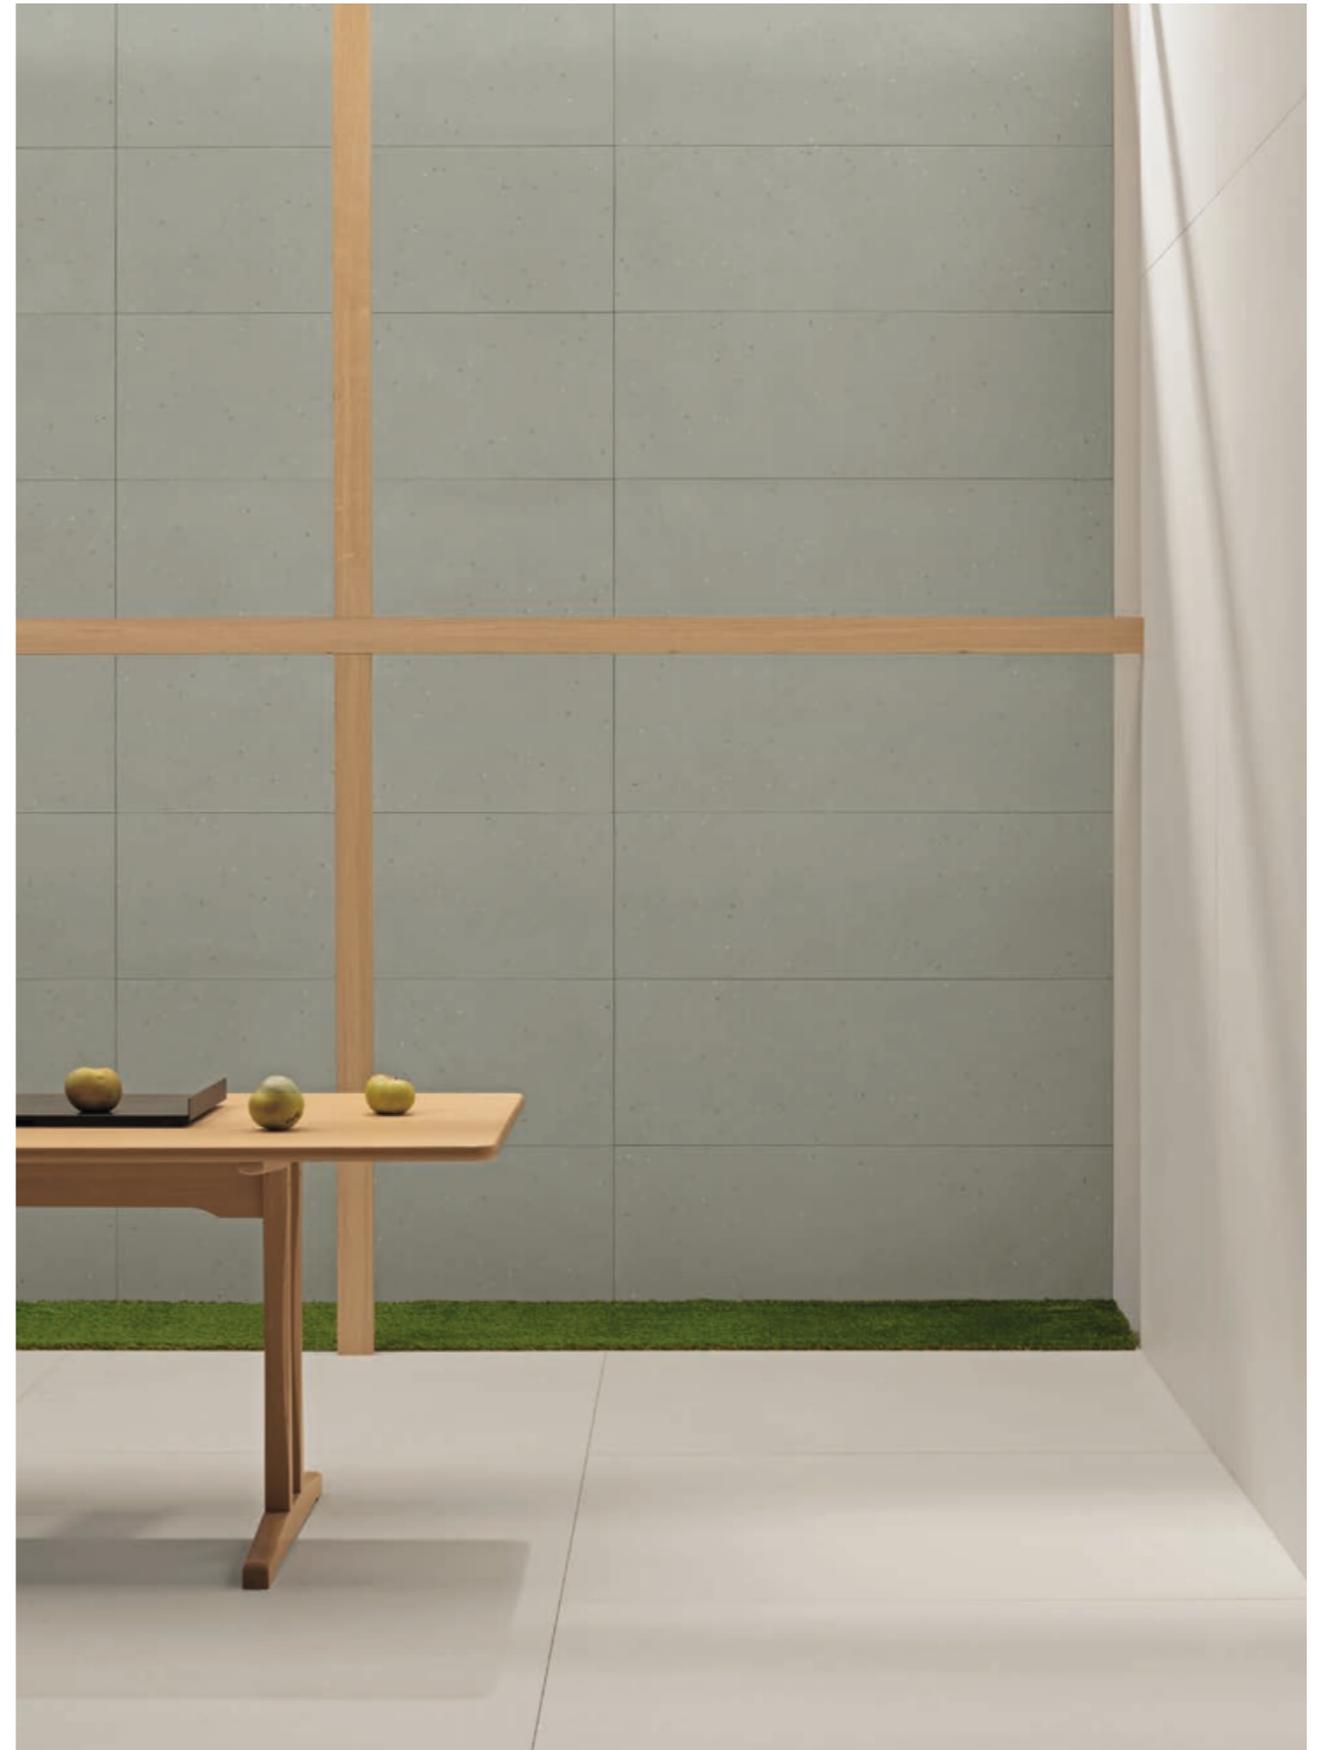

Primavera is the contrast between the natural element and the artificial world, translated into porcelain. The designers have reproduced a slab that resembles a natural element with all its irregularities, perceptible to sight and touch, by throwing small coloured ceramic inserts in a completely random way on five different mixture bases. This allows beautiful imperfections on the surface of the tiles for a unique and always interesting texture.

Primavera rappresenta il contrasto tra la natura e il mondo artificiale. Abbiamo trovato il modo di sfruttare la manifattura per catturare l'autenticità di una materiale naturale, creando delle imperfezioni sulla superficie piuttosto che riproducendo un design.

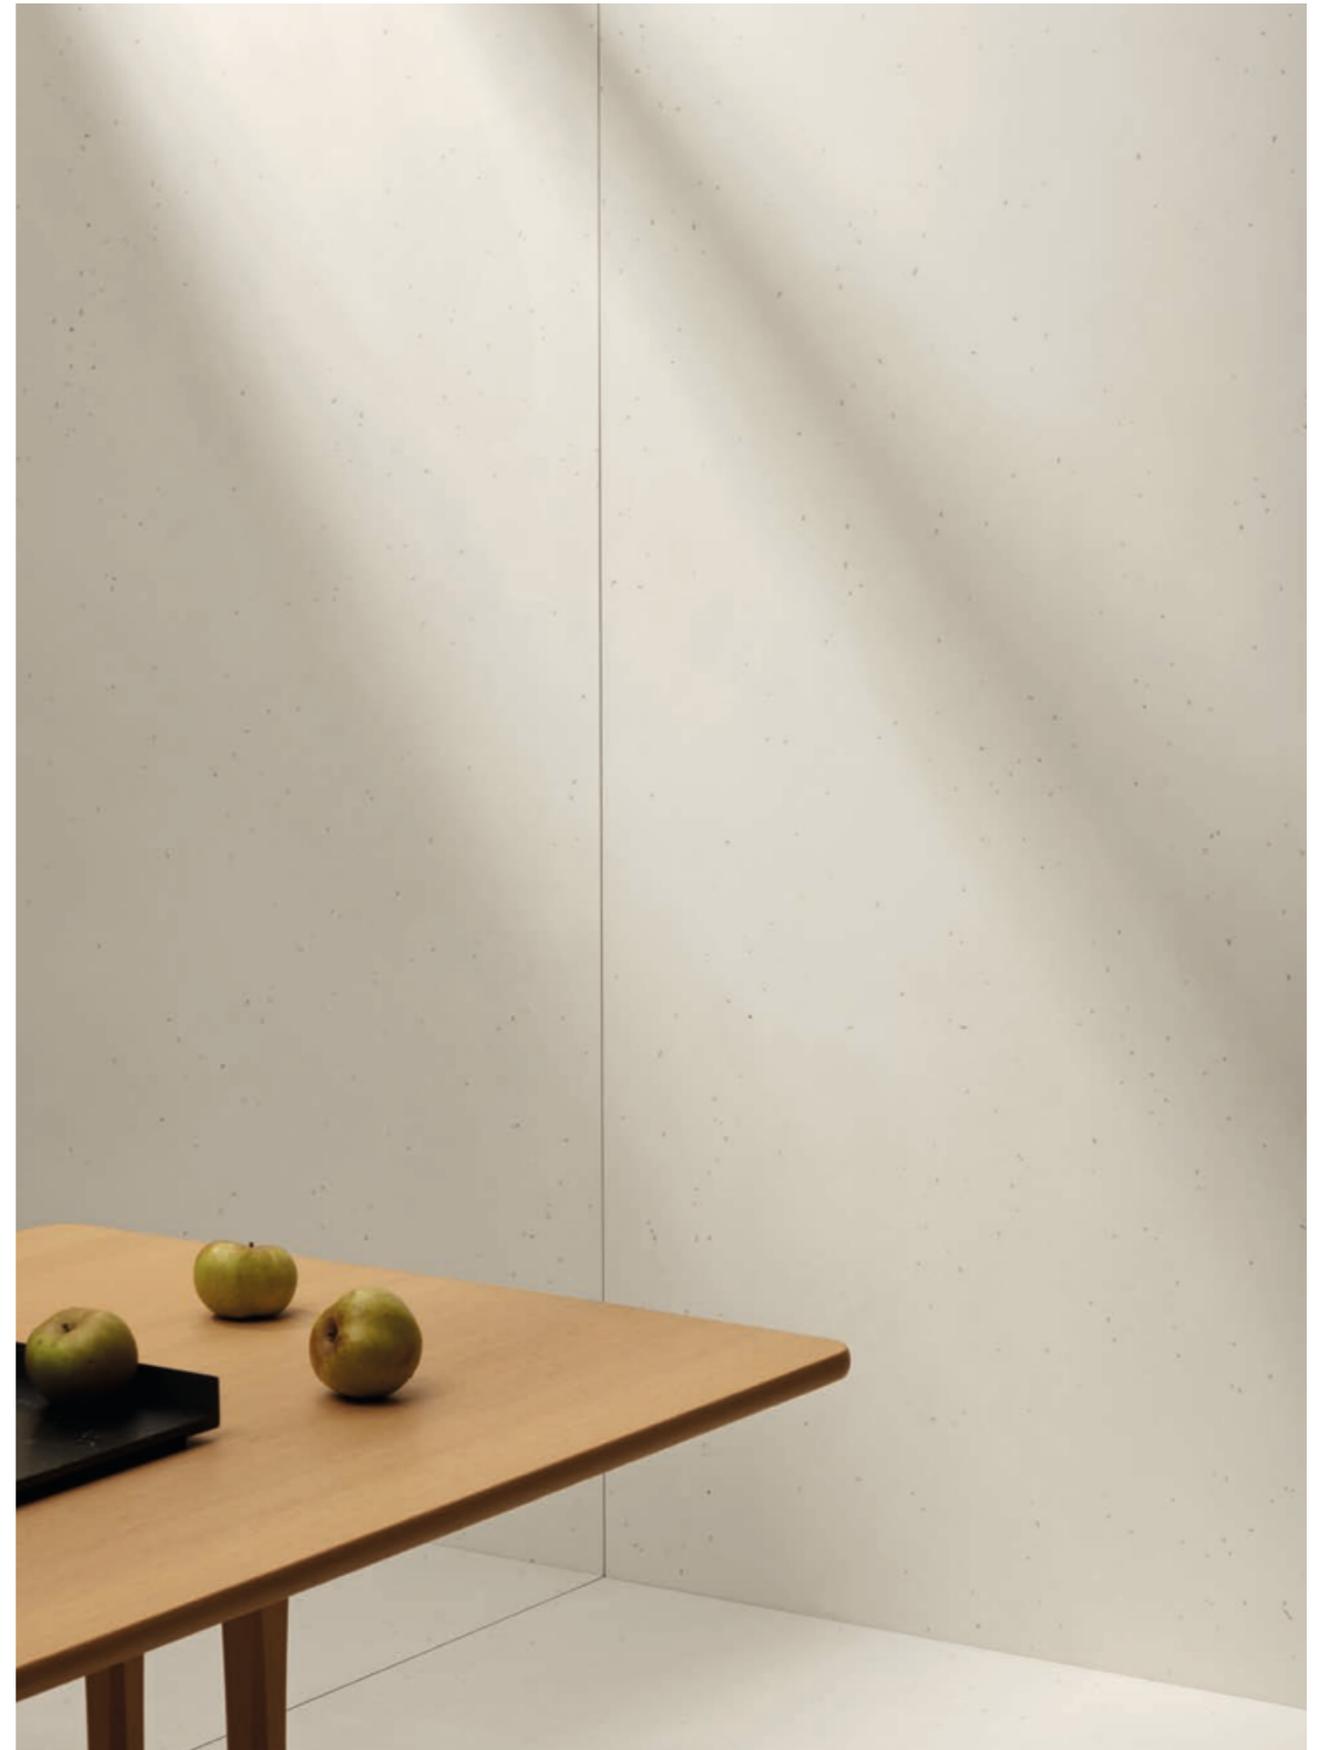

Primavera is the contrast between nature and artificial world. We found a way to capture the authenticity of a natural material by manufacturing imperfections on the surface rather than by reproducing a design.
